CONTENTS

Rudolph H. Dornemann
Seven Seasons of ASOR Excavations at Tell Qarqur, Syria, 1993–1999

Introduction 1
General Discussion and Historical References concerning Excavated Archaeological Sites in the Region around Tell Qarqur 3
The Archaeological Setting for the Region around Tell Qarqur 6
Renewed American Schools of Oriental Research Excavations 7
Iron Age Remains in Area A 10
Iron Age Remains in Areas B, D and E 29
Extent of the Iron Age occupation 41
Iron Age II Pottery from Area A, the Gateway Area, and from Areas B and D 41
Occupation Remains Overlying the Iron Age Levels 59
Pre Iron Age Remains: Middle Bronze Age, Early Bronze Age IV and Earlier Occupations 72
The Early Bronze Age IVB Pottery Tradition at Tell Qarqur 103
Early Bronze IVA–Early Bronze Age I and Earlier Pottery in Iron Age Construction Fills and Other Late Contexts 105
Preliminary Analysis of Botanical and Zoological Remains 117
Conclusion 118
Notes 118
Appendix: Summary Report on the Phase I Analysis of Zooarchaeological Material, by Susan Arter, San Diego Natural History Museum 119
Bibliography 132

Daniel Miller, II
A Gazeteer of Iron I Sites in the North-Central Highlands of Israel

Introduction 143
Gazetteer of Iron I Sites 150
Bibliography 200